The records of this notary have been digitized on www.familysearch.org: Image Groups 009165369, 009165370, 009165391, and 009165392

The extensive output of the notary Michael Frossard is one of two very important sources for genealogy for Moudon in the 16th Century, the other being that of Rod, Rodolphus, or Roulx Demont. Six registers or minutaires survive for Michael Frossard, as well as a seventh, artificial register consisting of miscellaneous transactions signed by Frossard, copies of documents recorded by other notaries, and some signed by other notaries, described by the ACV as “actes judiciaires de la cour”. The script is often very rapid and uneven, but mostly legible unless the ink has faded or the paper has been damaged. However, some pages are very messy, especially after about 1525, and likewise most of the court records. Some of the registers may have been assembled from smaller ones, and there are some irregularities in the numbering and sequence of the folios.

Cover: Primum registrum Michaelis Frossarda extraordinem, 1506-1512.

(Folio numbers have been added much later, apparently in pencil. The ink has faded significantly, and there is some damage to the edges of the pages, likely from mice. However, the register is to some extent artificial, as the second leaf is in fact a separate, isolated document oriented at right angles that had been unfolded for insertion here.)

A marginal insertion notes that this Petrus de Curia is the brother of Nobilis Anthonius de Curia. Also, the text names Anthonius and Bernardus de Curia, burgenses Melduni, as securities for the dowry. The leaf or folio numbered 2 is a personal letter from Pierre de la Cort (i.e., de Curia), in French, but poorly legible, from Lausanne, in the month of April, possibly requesting the documentation of securities for the dowry.

DL 43/6: (Image group 009165391, image 5)

Cover: Quintum Registrum Egregii Michaelis Frossard inceptum anno 1520.

(The foliation of this register is problematic. There are presently three foliations: The most recent is a 20th Century number in pencil, extending to fol. 111 only. The next earlier foliation matches the first foliation, but in a 16th Century script (Roman numerals) in ink that has faded badly, not visible on the first 15 folios and some other folios due to damage to the corners of the pages, especially the first 37 folios, and ending at fol. 75. The oldest foliation is in dark ink (Roman numerals), extending nearly to the end of the register but obscured in about the first 24 folios by damage to the corners of the pages, and then lined out (in crayon ?) from the point where it first appears until the folio bearing the modern number 74. The two older foliations predate the damage to the corners of the pages. From fol. 112 to the end, there is only a single foliation, continuing the oldest numbering, but not lined out, and extending to the penultimate folio of the register. The last folio bears the number Cxxi, completely out of sequence and not in the same style as any other folio in the register. In view of the difficulty of navigating to any particular folio in the absence of a complete and continuous set of numbers that extends through the entire register, all three foliations are shown below, as follows:

- 2-111: pencil, 20th Century, and apparently the flyleaf bonded to the front cover is to be considered folio 1. Folios after 111, where this style of number is not found, are here shown in [square brackets], i.e., fols. [112-___], to indicate that the number has been imputed.
- (xvi)-(lxxiv): faded ink, 16th Century script, missing on many folios due to damage, but where visible matching the 20th Century foliation.
- {xxxviii}-{v^{xx}xi} and {v^{xx}xii}-{xxxxx}: dark ink, 16th Century script, but a different hand, obscured or absent from some folios due to damage, and lined out from where it first becomes visible to fol. 111, after which it is not lined out and becomes the only folio number. Here shown in {curly brackets} to distinguish it from the other two foliations.
- The final folio is designated [146] [{viii^{xx}xv}] (Cxxvii), physically numbered Cxxvii, but logically fol. 146 of the register following the 20th Century foliation, and logically also fol. 175 in the oldest foliation.

Oddly, this is not the most complex foliation found in Medieval registers from the Pays de Vaud. Foliation on the verso is shown below only with the modern foliation.

(The first folio is numbered 2, apparently treating the flyleaf that appears to be attached to the cover as 1.)

2 (Damaged notation that the folio is from the tenure of Petrus de Belloforti as governor and baillif of Vaud, with large paraphe.)

2 21 may 1520, Ludovicus de Praz filius Johannis de Praz parrochie Melduni, quitclaim to Jacobus de Praz eiusdem parrochie frater suus tam suo quam Francisci, Glaudii, et Michaelis de Praz fratribus suis nominibus, for his share of their jointly held property, with further proceedings.

3 (Most of the first two lines are damaged and illegible) 21 may 1520, (Rodulphus, subject of the next item) Bondet (or Boudet) clericus et burgensis Melduni sells to Stephanus [Ju]stivel (clearly written later in the text) de Bussy.

3v 21 may 1520, Rodulphus Bondeti ? clericus et burgensis Melduni sells to Glaudius Vuannyeres alias Jordani de Bussy, a letter of reachept.

(Inserted here: a sheet of paper written on one side, apparently the preliminary text for the above item: Ego Colletus Marguet filius quondam Glaudii Marguet de Dompnomartino, notum facio universis presentibus et futuris, quod ego ... me habuisse et realiter receipisse a Francesia dillecta uxore mea filia Petri Anzonet de Rospra nun residentis apud Branles..., but the document ends at the bottom of the sheet in the “confitens” section, just short of the logical end of the document, incomplete, no date.)

[145] {viii^{xx}xiii} (In a very different, round hand not seen elsewhere in this register, very similar to a script found in some items in the notarial records of Rodulphus Demont, see below) Die Sabbati 08 nov 1533, Petrus Barbeyr mercator et burgensis Melduni, and Johannes deys Gerbolles lathomus morans Melduni, dispute regarding construction by the said Johannes that impinged on a wall of the house of the said Petrus (de et super certa lubea et latomis quas idem Johannes deys Gerbolles composuerat et preficere volebat in sponda muri domus ipsius Petri Barbeyr site Melduni loco dicto in Vico Castri a parte oriente), quod cedebat in grande dampnum et prejudicium ipsius Petri Barbeyr, ratione gravitatis et ponderis eiusdem lubeae..., arbitration (but the arbiters are not named) and settlement. The text appears to continue from the bottom of fol. [145v] to the top of the next folio, numbered Cxxvii (127), containing four lines of text, concluding with the date, with signature and paraphe of Michael Frossard. (This dispute is illuminated in Monique Fontannaz, La Ville de Moudon (2006, Monuments d'art et d'histoire du canton de Vaud, VI), p. 310, with source notes on fol. 521: concerning the house at rue du Château 13, “En 1531, Jean des Gerbolles, maçon et cabaretier, obtint d’établir des latrines sur la ruelle située derrière la maison de Jacques Wagnières, soit à l’arrière du n° 11 ²³⁹, ce qui entraîna les protestations du marchand Pierre Barbier, propriétaire de la cuisine située en dessous ²⁴⁰.” Sources: ²³⁹ DL 33/6 (register of Rodulphus Demont), fol. 152v, 27 aug 1531; ²⁴⁰ DL 43/6 (the present register of Michael Frossard) fol. 174 (the folio we designate as [145] {viii^{xx}xiii}, 08 nov 1533. Regarding the citation in the records of Rodulphus Demont, the transaction in question turns out to be in a very similar hand, a grant by Jacobus Vuanyerres barbitonsor et burgensis Melduni to Johannes deys Gerbolles to build latrines behind the house of the said Jacobus, and adjacent to the house of the said Johannes, not mentioning the house of Petrus Barbeyr.)

(Inserted after fol. [145v], a sheet of paper written on both sides, script somewhat resembling that on fol. [145]: 27 aug 1532, Johannes Cordeyr et Petrus dou Fort de Capella Voudanna, debt to Discretus Ludovicus Constantin clericus et burgensis Lausanne, with further proceedings, each item with the small paraphe of Michael Frossard, and with his signature and paraphe after the last additional item.)

DL 43/7: (Image group 009165392, image 5)

(Artificial register, original title on the cover badly faded and mostly illegible, “... judicialia plura ...”, and a later title in French indicating “1514 et suivant”, and a 19th or 20th Century title, “Registre des Actes judiciaires de la Cour de Moudon”. Acts in various hands, not in strict chronological order, modern pencil foliation only, those of Michael Frossard frequently very messy and faded. Some of the paper was of poor quality, resulting in the ink bleeding through and rendering some passages illegible. The dates are sometimes Style of the Nativity, sometimes Style of the Annunciation, often uncertain as to which calendar was in use.)

(Many transaction dates shown below are uncertain, because the final date is often “quo supra”, referring to passages buried in the text such as “on the following Monday”, not easily found. In view of the difficulty of deciphering the text and the frequent ambiguities, the most useful information in presenting the material proves to be the date of the initial claim and the names of the parties involved.)

1 19 sep 1514, Georgius de Castro capellaunus rector capelle Sancti Petri fundate in ecclesia parrochiali Sancti Laurencii Martiris de Staviaco et eo nomine appoints as procurator Nobilis Jacobus Catellan domicellus Staviaci castellanus Melduni, with small paraphe of Michael Frossard but no signature.

2 Sample document for recording a procuration, with blanks, etc., or gaps where pertinent information should be inserted, no date, no signature or paraphe.

(text is difficult to follow, but it appears he admits to the charge), no signature or paraphe.

5v (This folio is blank, except for a rough list of notables at the bottom, plausibly a list of those present at some judicial or governmental session not specified.)

16 Petrus de Belloforti dominus Boschi gubernator et ballivus Vuaudi, quod die Lune ante festum Translacionis Sancti Nycollay 1514, Venerabilis Dominus Nycollaus Gaschet curatus de Yvonant fecit clamam de Spectabili Magistro Domini Johanni de Alingio domino de Cudreaz, de Langin, et Sancti Martini Quercus, including transcript of letter to Johannes d'Alinge (in French): Le gouverneur et ballif de Vuaud, Noble Jehan d'Aline seigneur de Cudreaz, de Langin, et de Saint Martin du Chagnoz, Nous vous saluons. Sçaches que Venerable home Domp Nycollas Gaschet curé de Yvonant se clame de vous es mains de nostre lieutenant, pour quoy à la clame et instance dudict Domp Nycolas vous citons et assignons, mandons citer et assigner par nostre message porteur de ces presentes par devant nous ou ledict nostre lieutenant à Moudon à ce Lundi prochant aprest feste Saint Urban Pape à heure dehue et lieu acoustumé de plaider à faire raison à vous les parties et plus oultre proceder selon raison et coustume de pays; present en ladicte clame François Destrier et Glaude Vouleri bourgeois de Mondon, et à Dieu soyes. There follows a list of the specific properties, several of them lined out without an obvious explanation. Gaschet supplied a vidimus of a letter supporting his claim: Nos Henricus de Ruppe prepositus et canonicus ecclesie cathedralis Lausanne ex una parte et Dompnus Petrus Grivat curatus ecclesie parrochialis de Yvonant ex alia parte, quod cum debatum et questionis materia verterentur inter nos..., with a judgement by the Bishop of Lausanne, declaring that “dictus curatus de Yvonant et sui successores in dicta ecclesia habeant et teneant et possideant perpetue omnes decimas novalium quascumque factoras in dicta parrochia de Yvonant a duodecim annis nuper lapsis citra et eciam ex nunc et imperpetuum”, this declaration recorded by Petrus Gallandat de Yvonant clericus dicte curie nostre Lausanne, dated 19 apr 1434. Testimony from the present land holders who have been subject to the dîme was gathered. At length, a settlement was reached and the proceedings terminated, in favor of Gaschet, but the explicit settlement itself, presumably in the form of a separate document, does not seem to appear here. One loose document is inserted here, the actual summons to Jehan d'Alinge dated le Lundi avant feste Translacion Saint Nycolas 1514 cited above. The last date found in the proceedings (which are not very legible in places, with many changes and insertions) is die Lune post festum Sancti Galli, presumably still in 1514.

34 La Dimanche avant feste Saint Mathieu Appostre 1512, letter from the gouverneur et ballif de Vuaud, to Noble Michiel Musard seigneur de Vuycens, notifying of a claim against him by Antoyne Mesytre, Claude Contoz, Jehan Fabvre le devant netz, Jehan Favre le jeune, Pierre Piot, Girard Bersyn, Anthoenne Bersyn, Humbert Jenier, Anthoenne Foresteir, et Benoyt Grangier de Tierrens, nature of the claim uncertain and possibly not stated, very messy and not clearly legible, with statement on the back, fol. 34v, with signature and paraphe of Michael Frossard.

(In this and other claims, the involvement of the defendant often seems to trace back to a “fidejussor” who obtained an interest in property by virtue of alleged default or non-payment by the purchaser.) On fol. 79, below, and with a marginal reference mark I, an item apparently belonging here, although the insertion point in the present item is not clear: “Prenominatus Glaudius de Gazel reus dixit et proposuit quod virtute premissorum ipse veniabat liberandus... “, with various approvals. Another, similar reference mark and a corresponding marginal notation are found on fol. 69, not related to the contents of the item on fol. 79. Also, another reference mark, an ornamented I something like ^TI, occurs on fol. 70v, with a corresponding paragraph at the bottom of fol. 71 and continuing to the bottom of fol. 71v.

72 Die Sabbati post festum Translacionis Sancti Nycollay 1515, Boniffacius Birderi clericus et burgensis Melduni veluti persona conjuncta et eo nomine Humberte filie quondam Petri filii quondam Jacobi Pini notarii et burgensis Melduni made a claim against Ludovicus Creaturaz antenatus burgensis Melduni, stating that Johannes Joliveti clericus Melduni natus et heres quondam Johannis Joliveti notarii et burgensis de Melduno, de laudibus et auctoritatibus Agnetis relicte predicti quondam Johannis Joliveti et Johannete uxoris sue dicti Johannis junioris, sold to Rodulphus Decimatoris clericus et burgensis Melduni a cense of 15 sols out of a total of 20 sols cense owed to the claimant Johannes [Joliveti junior] by the late Michael Creaturaz de Melduno and his wife Perrissona with various additional complications, recorded by Nycodus Escofferii clericus Melduni and later copied and signed by Jacobus Escofferii custodian of the registers of the said Nycodus, dated 06 apr 1476, and then the said Rodulphys Decimatoris clericus et burgensis Melduni sold the cense to the said Discretus Jacobus Pini notarius et burgensis Melduni, with additional complications (among others, involvement of Nycodus Creaturaz alias Michiel burgensis Melduni, son of the said Michael and Perrissona, thus explaining the origin of the alias).

79 Apparently an insertion that belongs with the item on fol. 66, see above.

The text does not say that Bernardus and Guido are minors, and they were old enough to swear an oath in the hands of the locumtenens.

122v Die Lune post festum Translacionis Sancti Martini 1512, Petrus Clerjat residens apud Nerioux made a claim against Johannis Guillion dicti loci Nerioux, saying that Frater Phillipus Petrodi cappellanus ordinis Sancti Johannis Jherusalem rector et eo nomine cappelle et hospitalis Sancti Johannis Jherusalem fundate in villa Melduni made an accensation to Petrus Clerjat monrans apud Nerioux for a tenement and heritage that was formerly held by Anthonius Feney ? subject to the said hospital, recorded by Rodulphus Joliveti clericus et burgensis Melduni 15 jul 1509, and further, the said rector made another accensation to the said Petrus Clerjat and Colletus Boschard morantes apud Nerioux, recorded by Johannes Luysii 14 jul 1510.

135 19 mar 1512, “salvagardia unius conventus et religiosorum eiusdem ac famulie et servitorum ipsius”, die et anno subscriptis locum nostrum tenens exposuatur Venerabilis Frater Michael de Turre in sacra theologia doctor, prior et eo nomine conventus Beate Katherine Virginis de Joreto, nomine tocius dicti conventus et religiosorum eiusdem, quod ipse dubitat per nonnullos eius emulos molestari, verberari, per operibus facti in corporibus et bonis causantibus quam plurimus mimi ac eciam operibus facti per dictos eorum emolos de facto factis in eorum personis et bonis et maxime in eorum clauso situato in Joreto penes conventum ipsorum predictum et intinere publico tendente Lausanne et rueto de laz Perreyre que est ab oriente, et prout infra limites suos jacet ibidem appositos, et quia ipsi supplicantes contra predictos emulos minime resistere possent, requesting protection etc. The sense of this item depends on the meaning of “emulos”, which could mean either “rivals” or “imitators”, the latter in the sense possibly of lay persons affiliated with the convent in some way. Also uncertain is the sense of dubitat, which might mean that the prior denies (questions) the abuse, but seems more likely to mean something like deplore. Further, the first verb, written exposuet..., followed by two indistinctly altered letters and an abbreviation mark that might also have been altered or even lined out, does not match the standard conjugation of expono. It might be an attempt at exposuit (indicative active perfect), or exposuerat (indicative active pluperfect), or, if the possibly ambiguous locum nostrum tenens should in fact be read as locum nostrum tenenti (dative, the last part is written tenen, with an indistinct general abbreviation sign that does not signify a particular grammatical case), an entirely incorrect attempt at exponitur (indicative passive present). Toward the end of this item, there appears to be a prohibition against harming the priory, the religious, as well as their servants and property, but here again, the terminology is problematic: nec in dictos priore et religiosis eorum familiam servitores et bona quovismodo actempleret seu actentare ... ? nec in clauso intrare depasquorum ? facere nec ... ? in suis clausi destruere.

Cathedra, at which time Glaudius added others on his behalf, including Johannes Grivat and his wife Francesia, requesting a continuance of another week, reconvening die Sabbati ante Dominicam Bordarum [1511], at which hearing the parties requested a continuance of another week, to reconvene die Sabbati post Dominicam Bordarum [1511], at which time they requested another continuance, to reconvene die Sabbati post Dominicam de Reminiscere [1511], continuing again to the die Sabbati post Dominicam de Occuli [1512], and delayed again until die Sabbati post Dominicam de Lectare [1512], and again until die Sabbati post Dominicam de Judicame [1512], and yet again until die Sabbati post Dominicam de Ramispalmarum [1512], and then until die Sabbati post Dominicam de Quasimodo [1512], and again until die Sabbati post festum Ascencionis Domini Nostri Jhesu Christi [1512], and again until die Sabbati ante festum Penthecostes [1512], and then until die Sabbati post festum Penthecostes [1512], and again until die Sabbati post fesutm Nativitatis Beate Marie Virginis [1512], and again until die Sabbati post festum Exaltacionis Sancte Crucis [1512], and then until die Sabbati post festum Sancti Galli [1512], and then another week, finally, to die Sabbati post festum Omnium Sanctorum [1512], which works out to November 6, 1512.

At that session, die Sabbati post festum Omnium Sanctorum, dicta Francesia, rea guerens, respondens, dicit quod venit absolvendi a clama et petitione dicti actoris causis et rationibus sequentis:

Primo, negabat totam petitionem dicti actoris in generali et speciali acque dampna, missiones, et expenses.

Item, dicit quod lictera partagioum superius narrata et per actorem producta tantum faciebat pro dicta rea continere pro dicto actore maxime in tercia parte unius cupe frumenti census.

Item, dicti quod lictera ultimi partagii est reciproca, ergo bene intelligenter quod acto debet facere contentum dicte lictere partagii, actento quod est reciproca, quod tamen non facit, dicens quod dicta cupa frumenti census debet sibi remanere virtute licterarum per actorem productorum, qua responcione per ream guerentem sit facta, actor replicavit et dixit quod dicte lictere sunt levate nomine et ad opus dicti actoris et predictae Humberte uxoris sue ut constat in pede ipsarum licterarum, quare non faciunt nisi pro actore quo supra nomine tamen, et quod satis constat quod dicta cupa frumenti census sibi actori pertinet virtute ultime lictere partagii per quam licteram satis probato suam petitionem ? per ream negatam, acque replicat dicta rea quod in lictera ultima partagii specifificat unam partem et aliam non specifificata, quare est confusa, et dicto per actoris prout supra premissa posuerunt ipse partes in ire iudicio et cognare curie si quod a dicta curia removerunt, quibus remotis fuit in ipsa curia concorditer cognitum et iudicatum per providos viros Jacobum de Bullo, Nobilem Jacobum Cerjat, Petrum de Curia ? alias Quin, Stephanum Cornaz, Jacobum Cornaz, Rodulphi Bondeti, et plures alios fidedignes, mecum dicto castellano dicta die Sabbati ultimo dicta, in dicta curia sedentes cogniscentes, et iudicantes quod lictera ultimo partagii non derogat lictere primi partagii et actento, quod contra in ipsa lictera primi partagii quod rea debet habere et sibi in parte et partagio devenit tercia partis omnium bonorum quodam Jacobi Pini, quod ego Castellanus prefatus eandem ream guerentis absolvi debebam a clama et peticio dicti actoris... , which apparently also relieved Glaudius Grest of any liability to the claimant. While it might appear that the issues between the heirs of Jacobus Pini were thus settled for all time, there are several other later disputes between the same parties elsewhere in these registers that have yet to be studied in light of the above proceedings.
